Dachshund Races aka Wiener Dog Races

Additional Races: Corgi and Mixed Breed Dog

There is nothing better than wiener dog races. Whether the wiener dog takes off after his “bait” immediately, or decides it’s social hour and hangs around the starting gate – the races are sure to be entertaining.

Races throughout the weekend include Dachshund, Corgi and Mixed Breed Dog. Multiple heats plus a Championship Race every hour. Sign up for the race time that work best for you. All sign-up’s must be done online and the cost to race is $15. There is a limit of 30 dogs for each hour of racing.

Race Rules:

- Mixed Breed Dog races are open to all mixed breed dogs weighing no more than 30 pounds.
 - Note: Our course size prohibits certain dog breeds from participating: Whippet, Italian Greyhound.
- Dachshund Races open to pure bred dachshund and dachshund mix* only weighing no more than 30 pounds.
 - Note: To qualify as a "Dachshund Mix", dachshund must be the dominant trait in your dog. Event staff reserves the right to reject a dog for not meeting this requirement.
- Corgi Races open to pure bred Corgis and Corgi mix* only weighing no more than 30 pounds.
 - Note: To qualify as a "Corgi Mix", Corgi must be the dominant trait in your dog. Event staff reserves the right to reject a dog for not meeting this requirement.
- Two handlers are required to participate in the races, one at the start and one at the finish.
- Both Handlers and dogs must be “on deck” and ready to go 10 minutes prior to the race time.
- Only the handlers and the dogs running in the current heat will be allowed in the track area.
- Owners/Handlers cannot throw, push or in any way give the dogs a head start.
- Owners/Handlers cannot run up and down the track during the race.
- Owners/Handlers cannot reach for the dog over the finish line. The dog must cross the finish line on its own.
- The first dog to run COMPLETELY across the track finish line will be the winning dog of the heat.
- The winning dog of each heat will automatically be entered into the championship race.

Our judges are not professional judges. All judges’ decisions are final.
